Internship@Zühlke

Who we are

Zühlke Serbia, based in Belgrade's most exciting office building, is an attractive employer that offers challenging career opportunities for skilled, highly motivated software engineers.

Within the Zühlke Group, we position ourselves as a center of expertise for distributed, agile software development and work with colleagues in Switzerland, Germany, the UK and Austria on challenging projects involving the latest technologies and methodologies.

Responsibilities

We are currently looking for highly motivated Software Engineers to join our modern Belgrade office. Successful candidates will be working with some of the most technically gifted people in our industry and will benefit from ongoing training, achievement based career prospects, paid internship and additional benefits.

You will have an analytical, yet innovative mindset and the desire to challenge conventional thinking. You have desire to learn or have practical experience in the following areas:

- Java or .NET (C#)
- modern web or mobile applications
- OO basics (UML)
- agile methodologies and tools

You will have an opportunity to collaborate with colleagues and clients across the Zühlke Group.

Qualifications

Student on last year or fresh graduate; communicative and open-minded personality, fluent in English (both written and oral).

If you are interested, you can send your application with your CV to jobs@zuehlke.com.
